

ABOUT THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Hello, I'm Anita Smith, Professional Model and Modeling Instructor. My goal is to motivate today's women by sharing a concept that the most delightful woman is the harmoniously developed woman, and that the most interesting woman is the one who is mentally, physically, and emotionally alive. My objective is to not change women, but to help them develop themselves so that they process charm, poise, graciousness of manner, and that they reflect the simplicity, sense, and sincerity which will make them a true representation of what the American woman stands for in the eyes of the world.

I received training at Barre' Modeling School and Agency, Barber Studio for TV and Acting, and Essie Modeling Group. I have taught at renowned institutions such as Patricia Stevens Modeling School, Barre' Modeling School, Fox Models, and a host of other establishments within the Washington D.C. area jurisdiction.
